

Protective Dimensions Variable Annuity Sample Portfolios

Protective Dimensions is a variable annuity that can become an important part of your overall financial plan in retirement, particularly if you want to adopt a long-term investment horizon for a lower cost option. Mutual Fund Research (a unit within Edward Jones) has created sample portfolios available with the Protective Dimensions variable annuity to help financial professionals guide their clients into an appropriate mix of investment options. The aim of the model is to help clients build a portfolio of investment options that provides diversification among various investment categories of our investment pyramid, while providing a reasonable long-term risk profile. The sample portfolios for the Protective Dimensions variable annuity coincide with the Investment Policy Committee's (also a unit within Edward Jones) recommended weightings for the portfolio objectives.
